POLISH AIR FORCE UNIVERSITY

LOCATION: city of Dęblin, South-East Poland

YEAR OF ESTABLISHMENT: 1925

MISSION: Polish Air Force University is a modern higher education institution which offers study programmes for military and civilian students, full-time, part-time and post-graduate studies, professional development courses and Officer Career Development programmes.

In the School of Eaglets military cadets earn their spurs as fighter jet, helicopter and transport aircraft pilots, Ground-Controlled Interception (GCI) Controllers, Air Traffic Controllers (ATC), Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV) pilots-operators, air defence specialists and logistics engineers. For the civilian students we have prepared the following fields of studies: Aviation and Aeronautics, Navigation, National Security and Logistics.

RECTOR-COMMANDANT
Brig. Gen. Pilot Krzysztof Cur, PhD, Eng.

POLISH AIR FORCE UNIVERSITY

LOCATION: Warsaw, capital of Poland

YEAR OF ESTABLISHMENT: 1951

MISSION: The University educates students at 8 faculties in military and civilian studies. Graduates of military studies receive the professional title of master of science and are appointed to the rank of second lieutenant. Civilian studies are generally available, without any obligation to the Ministry of National Defence. These studies provide the opportunity to obtain the professional title of engineer or licencjat, master of science or master, and scientific degree of doctor. The University is also a scientific centre conducting research for industry and military organizations at domestic and European level.
